

Applications are now open for our Global Summer School 2022

A very warm welcome from Nottingham Trent University (NTU).

We are excited to announce that applications for our Global Summer School 2022 are now open. We are offering both online courses (1– 8 July) and on-campus courses (18– 29 July) so international students can participate regardless of any travel restrictions that may in place this summer.

It's a great time to study at NTU. We've been recognised for our excellence in teaching, support, innovation, sustainability, research and student experience. NTU has been awarded The Queen's Anniversary Prize for excellence in research, as well as being placed in the Top 5 Most Sustainable universities in the world in the UI Green Metric World University Rankings.

Courses for 2022

Online courses

Our interactive week-long online courses will offer a mixture of live and pre-recorded sessions, collaborative work, and a range of engaging activities. The online summer school will also include a welcome orientation and course induction on Friday 1 July, and an exciting social and cultural programme.

On-campus courses

Our innovative in-person accredited courses have been designed especially for international students and will take place over a two-week period with 25 contact and 5 non-contact hours per week. Courses will run alongside our social and cultural programme including a visit to the city of Oxford. Students will be supported by our friendly team of NTU student buddies.
